Re: Virtual Gal Friday, LLC
1065 County Road 91, Bishop, TX 78343

Dear Ms. Schoolfield:

I am writing on behalf of Virtual Gal Friday LLC, your former client. Virtual Gal Friday has informed me that in retaliation for its decision to cease using your services, you have deliberately targeted its current clients by offering discounts to those in possession of an invoice from Virtual Gal Friday. You have furthermore made false and defamatory statements about Virtual Girl Friday and its C.E.O., Nancy Brown, via twitter and your web site, acts that constitute libel and business defamation.

You are hereby given formal demand to cease and desist from publishing any more defamatory statements about Virtual Gal Friday or Ms. Brown, and any more advertisements deliberately targeting its clients. You are further given demand to remove all such statements and advertisements from your web site, twitter feed, and any other location, whether physical or virtual. If you do not remove the objected-to statements and advertisements within three (3) business days after your receipt of this letter, and/or if you continue to make any more such statements and/or advertisements at any time after your receipt of this letter, I will have no choice but to recommend that Virtual Gal Friday file against you for business defamation, libel, and tortuous interference with a contract. In this suit, Virtual Gal Friday will request that the court order injunctive relief, in addition to recovery of Virtual Gal Friday's actual damages and exemplary damages (also known as punitive damages).

Sincerely,

Talya Bernstein Galaganov,
Of Counsel
